Essay Writing on Women as Victims of Human Trafficking.

A seminar was organized by Vidya Jyothi Institute of Technology on “Essay Writing on Women as Victims of Human Trafficking” on 13th October, 2015 at c-block seminar hall. Over 50 students have been participated. This essay writing competition was held for the students to make them aware about women human trafficking.

Human trafficking is fast becoming a major problem which involves both labor exploitation and sexual exploitation of the victims. Human trafficking takes place in almost all countries of the world today. Both women and men could be victims of human trafficking, however, the group affected most worldwide are young girls and women. Most of these females are trafficked for sexual exploitation. Human traffickers target young girls and women because these are the people who are adversely affected by discrimination and poverty. Those two factors lead women to have little or no access to education and employment opportunities among other resources. These make the women desperate and vulnerable because they can easily fall into human traffickers’ traps.

Major aspects considered in this essay writing are

- the leading regions in the world and particular countries that are considered the main trafficking sources
- Sexual exploitation is one of the major reasons for human trafficking, and too much attention is paid to it
- It seems to be logical to start your human trafficking essay with the causes of the problem

Finally ended with announcement of winner and runner.

Rangoli Competition

Vidya Jyothi Institute of Technology organized the "Rangoli Competition" on 08th January 2016. Over 20 students have been participated in the rangoli competition. All the head of the department of all branches were attended as chief guests.

Rangoli is a colourful art known by different names across different parts of India like Alpona, Ossa, Muggu, Kolam etc. With the fragrance of Diwali all around in the environment and Rangoli is something which anyone can relate to as they denote two important things – Colours, which everyone loves and Festivities, which everyone enjoys with their families.

The theme of the competition was 'celebrations and festivals'. Rangoli making is an integral part of Indian tradition and culture. Beautiful rangolis adorn the Indian houses specially during festivals. The participants created innovative designs of Rangoli using waste material, grains, bamboos, diyas, flowers and sawdust apart from rangolicolors.

Competitions resemble all examinations where we attempt to give up our best to excel. Rangolis are something each of us can easily relate to as they symbolize color as well.

Finally ended with the announcement of winner.

Seminar on Women and Legal System

Vidya Jyothi Institute of Technology organized a “Seminar on Women and Legal System” in c-block seminar hall on 14th March, 2016. Over 350 students took part in the seminar. This seminar was conducted for the students to make them aware about women and legal system. Mrs. was the speaker for the seminar.

In the seminar, the speaker elucidated about today’s arena, there are so many laws for women protection and empowerment but lots of cases have been observed when those who know the law misuse it and the real victim is either unaware of the laws or they don’t have the proper means and courage to fight for themselves. The need of the hour is proper implementation of these laws and discussing the loopholes prevailing at present. This conference will serve as a platform from intellectually all over the country to discuss the policy matters concerning women rights and apart from discussion, measures from proper implementation will be priority of the event.

The purpose of this seminar is to know about the legal awareness amongst women in the areas of marriage, dowry and divorce. The problems of marriage, dowry and divorce are extremely severe and women get exposed to violent and criminal acts; in India, these problems are common amongst the weaker and the economically backward sections of the society who are not much educated and are engaged in minority jobs such as rickshaw pullers, auto drivers, vendors and so forth. These sections of the society are of the viewpoint that when they marry off their sons, they will receive good money, valuables and enough dowries to sustain their living, but when they do not receive enough dowries from the families of the girls, they subject them to criminal and violent acts.

Finally ended with vote of thanks.
